

Scale House Operator

Looking for an employer with a long history and stability? Rockydale Quarries Corporation, an established aggregate producer in Virginia for over 83 years, is looking for a Scale House Operator at their Broadway, VA location. This position works within a quarry environment and will be weighing company and customer trucks hauling company products or vehicles hauling company equipment to/from the quarry. This position requires skills and competencies in Microsoft Office, proficiencies in counting/ handling money, and the ability to assist customers in selecting appropriate aggregate products that meet the required specifications of a job. This is not a call center position nor a typical office setting due to the nature and environment of the job.

Previous experience in dispatching trucks and the construction industry preferred. High school diploma or GED required. Must be able to work overtime as required by job.

Successful candidate must be able to deal with customers, contractors, and delivery drivers, both in-person and by telephone, and have a strong knowledge of Harrisonburg and surrounding areas. Must possess effective communication skills both oral and written, be able to multi-task, and work in a highly active work environment; have demonstrated experience with data entry and a strong proficiency with basic mathematics to include addition, subtraction, multiplication, division, fractions and percentages.

A comprehensive benefits package is provided including paid-time off, paid holidays, health/dental insurance, life insurance, and a 401K/Profit Sharing plan.

Qualified applicants may submit resumes in person and by email or fax. (No phone calls)
